Chris,

A week or so after the General election in 2006 I received a phone call from an individual who was asking me about filing a complaint with our office. She stated that she was a resident on a Indian reservation and that when they voted they had done so twice. She stated that the Reservation had them vote under there Native American names and then issued them identification cards to be bussed and vote under there American names. She thought that this was wrong and wanted to file a complaint, but wanted to stay anonymous for fear of what would happen to her and her family on the Reservation if they found out she had filed a complaint against them. I told her that we cannot take anonymous complaints in this office so she thanked me for my help and said she thought we should at least know what is going on, but she was not going to file a complaint and take the chance that the Tribal Council would punish her and or her family.

I hope this helps.
Have a great Day!
Kym Trujillo

Dear Kim,

Would you please be so kind to send me all information regarding the phone call you received from a concerned tribal Crow member that reported multiple Crow Tribal I.D. cards being issued for fraudulent voting, in the Nov 7, 2006 election?

Thank you,
